FREE BRAIN EXERCISE

AN EXERCISE IN CREATIVITY AND COGNITIVE FUNCTION.

The grid contains 9 columns with 9 three-digit numbers in each column.

Study the first column and you will see that the numbers One thru Nine are repeated twice in any order.

In other words each column contains the numbers one thru nine twice.

Complete the grid using the example in the first column.

You cannot repeat any of the three-digit numbers used in the first column.

You cannot use two of the same single-digit numbers in the same number as shown in column one.

You can only use each three-digit number once in completing the other 8 columns.
